Current Comment

There are now trayless cafeterias in which the top of the serving table revolves and you grab off the kind of food you want as it comes by. Eating here takes you back to your boyhood days when you used to grab the brass ring while riding the mery-go-round.

In New Mexico and Arizzona there are about 40,000 Navajo Indians, mostly self-supporting by means of the sheep industry. Their culture is much higher than that of their white neighbors of the lower class. The Indians of the southwest are generally quite contented with their manner of living and many observers think that their customs should be encouraged by the government rather than hampered.

The bonded indebtedness of the United States is less than four per cent of its total assets. The country has today all the resources it possessed two years ago. There is plenty of money available for every sound business enterprise. Somebody should inform our Uncle Sam of these facts and tell him to cheer up.

Well, the automobile has accomplished at least one reform. Nowadays you seldom see a small boy smoking the butt end of a buggy whip.

Word comes from Alaska to the effect that a huge lizard has been discovered that is covered with fur. Maybe it had been drinking hair tonic.

We still prefer 60 cent turkeys to 30 cent turkeys. For when turkeys are 60 cents a pound everybody buys them, and when they are 30 cents a pound nearly everyone is broke.

Now if the successful candidates will only furnish jobs for all the fellows to whom they promised jobs there ought not be so many jobless in the country.

Reports from Germany are to the effect that 3,000 more Ford cars were sold in that country in the first ten months of 1930 than in the same period of the year before. No wonder Germany is so restless.

Sometimes we wish we were back in the innocent days when we believed there was real ice on the stage when Eliza crossed the river in the Uncle Tom's Cabin show.

European nations want navies measured on a dollar basis because they know it costs us more to build ships since we pay our workers the high wages they are entitled to.

That's all.

LOCAL SEA SCOUTS LEAD ALL OTHERS

At the scout court of honor at the Congregational church Sunday night six Sea Scouts, Harris Gardner, Lloyd Brown, Henry Ruthnick, Miles Standish, Noel Voge and Alfred Beer received the rank of quartermaster —the highest scout rating.

This is anothe rsignal honor for Campbell, inasmuch as there is no other troop of Sea Scouts in the United States that can boast as many quartermasters as can Campbell.

Elwin Stewart, Harry Bloom, Norman McVey and Perley Payne were given the rank of "ordinary seamen.

BOARD VOTES TO BUY SCHOOL SITE

Last Wednesday night the Campbell high school district trustees, including J. E. Wiesendanger, C. B. Field, J. A. Kidward, E. H. Todd and F. W. Mitchell, clerk, held a meeting and came to a decision regarding the purchase of a site for tthe proposed new high school. They have agreed to purchase the Hagelin property for $30,000. The commercial price of the property was $36,000, but in view of the fact that the property is to be used for school purposes Mr. Hagelin reduced the consideration by $6,000.

The site is advantageously located, being diagonally across Winchester road and opposite the grammar school building. With a site in their possession, things are picking up along the lines of a new high school building.

STEPHEN MERRILL PUTS CAMPBELL ON THE MAP FOR SURE

Campbell thrilled Sunday night at the announcement that Stephen Merrill had placed second in the national Atwater-Kent radio audition. Aside from the attendant honor, Steve received a considerable material reward.

Extensive fetes for the contestants have been reported at great length by the daily press, and there is little that we can add here except, perhaps, that Campbell is proud of young Steve, and wishes him continued success.

The fact that his efforts of the past year put him at the top of the heap whereas last year he failed to place in the audition, proves that he is sincere, and a worker; his ultimate position in the world of music is practically unlimited.

We of the Press received a letter from Campbell's singer, written en route to the east, in which he asked us to convey to the folks of Campbell his thanks for the reception and program tendered in his honor just before he and his father, Dr. W. I. Merrill, left for New York. We herewith pass on his "thank you all" with a great deal of pleasure.

When Stephen and his father will return to Campbell is uncertain.

PRUNE GROWERS HOLD MEETING IN CAMPBELL FRIDAY

A meeting was held Friday evening at the grammar school by the Campbell-Los Gatos local of the California Prune and Apricot Growers association. This is one of the few yearly meetings and was attended by many members and their families.

C. D. Cavallaro, state president of the association, gave a brief talk, and urged the building up of the membership of the association. It is generally agreed that there are too many growers outside of the association whose membership would strengthen materially the organization.

O. A. Harlan, general manager, spoke along the same lines, adding the information that the association shipped more dried fruit in October than in an yother period. Most of the fruit goes to Germany, France and Belgium. Mr. Harlan corrected the report that the association is cutting prices. On the contrary, according to Mr. Harlan, open contracts made by those outside the association are the greatest menace.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

We and Our Neighbors Club Will Hold Christmas Party

At a meeting of We and Our Neighbors club recently a Christmas party was planned to be held on the afternoon of Dec. 20 at the clubhouse.

Club members who have no family are asked to bring a child to the party and also have two inexpensive gifts, one for a child and one for an adult.

THE NEW LICENSE PLATES ARE NOW AVAILABLE HERE

California motorists to the number of more than two million are required to renew registration of their cars and obtain new license plates duing the period extending from Dec. 15 to Jan. 15 at midnight. After the expiration date they will be subject to arrest and fine for driving without the new plates or evidence of having made application.

Renewal of registration and issuance of license plates is conducted by the California State Automobile association at 32 offices throughout Northern and Central California. All offices of the Division of Motor Vehicles issue plates. The division office in Sacramento receives applications by mail and delivers plates by the same means. In all instances, whether application is in person or by mail, it is important that the correct address appears on the white slip certificate of registration accompanying the registration fee of $3.

For the new year the color scheme of the license plates is orange lettering on a black background, reversing the colors of the 1930 plates.

New plates can be secured locally at the office of Ralph H. Hyde.

In Sunday's baseball game another victory was chalked up for the Campbell nine, which trimmed Santa Clara Merchants on their home field 10-2.

Athenour, Campbell pitcher, allowed but two hits during the entire game, and his team mates were in equally good form.

AMERICAN TRUST CO. EMPLOYEES TO GET XMAS BONUS

American Trust Company will distribute its customary Christmas bonus to employees it was announced yesterday. Coincidentally it was announced that extra time off for Christmas shopping during working hours is to be allowed, the second bit of good news broadening the smiles of satisfaction occasioned by the first, throughout the headquarters office and the other offices of the institution.

This distribution extends to the 95 offices of the bank in 32 cities throughout ten counties of the San Francisco metropolitan area. This distribution and consequent stimulation of Christmas shopping follow closely upon the American Trust company's 1930 Christmas club distribution to 21,000 customers. The aggregate of Christmas club checks reached a million and a quarter dollars, marking a 25 per cent increase over 1929.

HOUSECLEANING GOING ON AT THE SERVICE GARAGE

Messrs Dunlap and Smily of the Service garage have for the past ten days been cleaning up and remodeling the building in which they conduct their radio and garage business. A partition has been torn out, many windows added and a coat of whitewash applied to the entire place. It now carries the air possessed by "big time" garages and, according to the partners, will be much easier to maintain in a state of absolute cleanliness.

Further developments will be reported in the Press.

THE SPORT FORUM
By DICK LYNDEN

A nimble-footed Army back —Ray Stecker — raced 57 yards to immortality last Saturday and sunk the Navy's hopes for a scoreless tie in the final period with a madcap whirl off right tackle which ended in a touchdown and swung victory over to the Army. Seventy thousand spectators, who paid more than half a million dollars to witness the nation's swankiest charity show, thrilled at the abrupt and somewhat brutal denouement of a decidedly brilliant engagement.

Although the Army was represented as considerably stronger in all departments by eastern scribes, the Midshipmen showed amazing grit and aptness, and while outplayed in yardage compiled, contrived to halt Army ventures within the danger zone on every occasion save one—and that happened to be the margin of victory. Three times the Army eleven marched deep into Navy territory only to be balked in the shadows of the uprights by an inflexible Blue forward mass. Navy projected one considerable bolt into the Army defense, advancing to the 25-yard line after the Cadets had scored, but this gesture was frustrated when Byng's pass grounded.

A deal of controversy anent the selfish interests behind the charity enterprise have been circulated. It seems that Grover A. Whalen, ex-police commissioner of New York, and Mayor James Walker of the Tammany group, both vied for the right of sponsorship of the affair, as it is no small feather in the stovepipe of the man who can successfully separate the public from such a large sum of honest dollars, whether or not he is a genuine politician and the cause charity. When Mr. Whalen was finally given the call, Mr. Walker assumed a mien of mingled sadness and futility, whereupon he, muttering little naughtinesses about Mr. Whalen's designs on his job, begot for himself (and his hurt pride) a game between Benny Friedman's professional team and the Notre Dame All-Stars. But the Army-Navy extravaganza which regales just scads of elegant folk, is inimitable, and James was as sore as a ripe carbuncle when he realized the comparatively cheap gaudiness of his special charity show.

Max Baer, the Livermore cowpolk who was acquitted on a ring murder charge not so long back, is making a big stir on Broadway. A portion of Sid Mercer's description of him follows: " . . . The new California sensation arrived the other day with his manager, Ancil Hoffman, and says he will fight anyone the Garden can dig up for him . . . Starts off with Ernie Schaaf on Dec. 19 . . . Baer looks and talks the part of a coming champion . . . He has flattened 25 opponents . . . Stops at the Plaza and knows how to wear a dinner jacket . . . Says he will fight Sharkey, and

Christmas Party Is Woman's Club Program

A "Christmas party" was the program scheduled for the Country Woman's club Monday and it proved a most delightful occasion. A lovely tree, with baskets of toyon berries, and numerous lighted red candles made a cheerful holiday setting for the interesting entertainment..

Mrs. Neil Best announced as the opening number, "The First Nowell," to be sung by the assembly, with Mrs. R. H. Hyde leader, and Mrs. G. S. Robson at the piano. Little Margaret Tanner was introduced and recited a clever selection, "The Night After Christmas."

A sextet including Mesdames Freeman Howes, Herbert Shadle, Ralph Hyde, Donald Page, John Blaine, and Harold Cramer, accompanied by Mrs. Robson, sang a group of the lovely Christmas hymns.

Mrs. Mazarova George then gave a most interesting account of holiday customs and observances in pre-war Russia, her former home. The celebration of Christmas was more of a religious character, with imaginative and mystical concepts. "Grandfather Frost" was the counterpart of Santa Clause. Church was attended on Christmas Eve, and the evening meal was eaten after the star had appeared. Christmas day began with the arrival of carol singers, and later by a visit from the neighboring priests. After dinner the real fun began with dances, games and gifts.

The holiday season lasted until Jan. 5, with outdoor sports and mystic rites similar to our Hallowe'en, ending with a visit to the gypsies' camp on the night of the fifth.

Incidentally Mrs. George recommended the reading of Stanisls Raymont's book, "Peasants," to get a fine delineation of life and customs of the Russians, or as the country is now called, "United Society of Soviet Republics."

On the afternoon of Dec. 28 Mrs. Mazarova George will be honor guest at a tea held in International House, U. C. In the evening there will be a discussion by some qualified speaker of the writing of four modern Russian authors, all living outside of their own country, three in Paris, and Madam George of Campbell.

Bat Battalino, featherweight champ, was awarded a 15-round decesion over Kid Chocolate, the Cuban bon-bon, last Friday night, and although there was unanimity in the ring verdict, popular opinion generally contested the decision. Out of 13 votes cast in a poll of the boxing experts at the ringside, seven favored the ring judgment and six took the side of the "Keed." Chocolate refused to believe the pronouncement when he heard it, and later put on a sob act for his admirers in the dressing room. Disputable decisions will not do much to help a flickering sport such as boxing.
